What's covered?

- You will gain clarity about what motivates direct reports and then learn how to apply this theory to your specific work context and incorporate this into the performance management process and discussions.
- Learn how to set SMART goals collaboratively, which can encourage Direct report engagement and individual ownership.
- You will learn about and put into practice a model for preparing and conducting effective performance meeting that will ensure productive outcomes.
- You will be introduced to and practice the Communication Tools defined by industry experts as the best practices required to be able to manage and interact effectively with Direct Reports during the performance management process and discussion.
- You gain an appreciation of how to best ensure consistent optimum performance from direct reports.
- You will gain experience of and put into practice a methodology for dealing with different types of conflict that can arise during performance conversations and confidently manage yourself to achieve win- win solutions.
- You will gain knowledge of, analyze and apply the possible causes of poor performance and put into practice the best approach for supporting your direct report to get back on track.
- You will gain an appreciation of how best to deal with persistent poor performance and the options available towards ensuring fair, satisfactory outcomes for all.

During our preparation process we will take the time to discuss your needs and expectations to check that this programme is a good fit for you.

- Understand and practise leading and managing challenging conversations to ensure progress and accountability
- How to identify the causes of poor performance and how best to support individuals towards successful achievement of performance goals
- Understand when and how to escalate consistent poor performance within the organisation

How do we train and support you?

Building on over 40 years combined experience in human resource learning and development, the tutors utilise an experiential learning approach to their programmes. This methodology of learning provides an opportunity for learners to engage with, experience and apply the learning in a practical way and also provides the opportunity for learners to receive feedback on their newly applied skills. The opportunity is also provided to learners to reflect on the full learning experience and how this might be of value to them in the achievement of their learning goals.

To assist and continue with skills development, we facilitate via email a post learning reflective practice utilising skill practice sessions recorded during the course. This assists delegates in embedding new learning, gives further support and enables them to define any further actions required.

This programme offers one to one or group coaching as an additional element to further support the delegate and embed the learning process.

DiSC profiling is also available as an accompanying self-awareness tool and learning intervention.
